

- Host a network marketing party with proceeds going to a foster care organization.
- Come help for an hour at bedtime.
- Donate a proceed from your company to a foster care organization.
- Include whole family (biological children and foster children) during birthday party invites.
- Remember to ask about allergies or eating preferences before inviting the family over.
- Donate new bedding.
- Bring a supply of freezer meals for when new placements come.
- Host a family baby shower for a new foster family as they start the licensing process.
- Speak kindly about all individuals involved in the process at all times.
- Call and remind the foster parents they are doing a good work.
- Get background checked through the state so you can help without restrictions.
- Order supplies off Amazon and have them sent straight to the foster family.
- Drop off take out food. "Hey, I'm running by Culver's, what can I bring your family?"
- Bring coffee over and sit and chat during nap time.
- Offer free haircuts.
- Make baby blankets/hats for babies coming into care.
- Walk their dog.
- Donate a mini van.
- Celebrate the Foster Parents anniversary.
- Host a Christmas party with a foster care organization.
- Call a local foster care agency and ask if you can bring the staff coffee. (Happy case workers make for happy foster parents)
- Be a listening ear.
- Supply a family with new duffie bags and suitcases for when a child is transitioning out of their home.
- Offer a scholarship to a college foster teen.
- Ask to be a child's mentor.
- Speak to your church about supporting an organization during Orphan Sunday.
- Help plan a birthday party for a foster or biological child.
- Allow Foster Families the opportunity to feel seen and known.

to Bless
 Foster Families

with

Amber Reynolds